

Who is your "go-to" person?

How have they impacted your life?

How excited are you to meet new people?

SPECTRUM OF CONVERSATIONS

What are you curious about?

What are your hobbies?

What kinds of questions can you ask that allow for follow up questions?

Everyone Has A Story

Knowing there's always more under the surface, what questions could you ask someone to get to know more about them?
(because let's be honest, we need to stop with "what's your name/where are you from/what do you do?")

The most interesting people are the most interested people

(meaning if you're asking lots of questions in the convo, you will be perceived as more interesting)
